The more things change....

Last Friday evening 75 graduates of the class of 1985 received their diplomas during the 17th commencement exercises at Telstar Regional High School. Many things have changed in the years since the spring of 1969 when a greater portion of the school's first graduation ceremonies were held with makeshift lighting because of an area power outage.

Many things have changed—but many more are the same as they were on that rainy evening 16 years ago. Many of the traditions of commencement are part of a ritual as old and as seemingly immutable as the hills of western Maine. One of these traditions is the tendency of those who have trod these paths before to offer what is thought to be sagacious words to send the graduates on their way.

The following is an excerpt from the offering of the chairman of the SAD #44 Board of Directors 10 years ago to the members of Telstar's class of 1975.

"A half century ago, F. Scott Fitzgerald wrote 'At 18 our ideals are hills from which we see; at 45 they are the caves in which we hide.'"

"When the question is asked 'What are you giving up, what are you doing to ease the world's woes, to find a way out of the morass of society's problems?' All too often the answer comes from the hills, filters out from the caves, and is murmured from all that are neither on the hills or in the caves, 'That's not my responsibility!' It is our responsibility, those of us who are over 30, those of you who are 18, and all the others who make up the structure of our society today.

"Society today needs the ideas and enthusiasm of youth, as it has in all the years that have gone before.

"None of us should fear new ideas, new fields to explore, new problems needing solution. We all should be willing to test and try new ways of thinking and living; to keep our hearts young and expectations high...and above all, never allow our dreams to die.

"As Robert Browning wrote '...a man's reach should exceed his grasp, or what's a heaven for.'"

"All of us must hold onto our dreams, our hopes and our aspirations, for even if the machinations of life cause us to fall short of fulfillment, we can truthfully say, 'We did our best.' You can't always control what happens to you, but you can control your response to failure. Remember that as long as you keep faith with yourself and with your God, nothing can permanently defeat you.

"Graduates, you must be prepared to face the lion in the pit, you must dare to be a Daniel, you must dare to have a purpose firm! You must dare to make it known! You must dare to stand alone!

"As the poet said:

'Be not like dumb, driven cattle!

Be a hero in the strife!'

"Dare to keep your head when all about you are losing theirs and blaming it on you.

"Dare to question those who claim to have the panacea for all problems. For as there is a thin line separating genius and madness, so there is a thin line between the self-proclaimed Moses who promises to lead you out of the wilderness and the Judas Goat that will lead you down the garden path.

"Beware of jumping on every bandwagon that passes by, of advocating every cause that comes down the road. Keep your options open, so that your decisions are in line with your conscience and not dictated by your desire to follow the crowd, and to not rock the boat.

"In our emphasis on individual initiative and accomplishment, we should not stray too far from the two commandments given us 2,000 years ago and recorded in the Book of Matthew: 'Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.'

"Fortified with the faith of our fathers, it is well to remember these words from Longfellow:

'Not in the clamor of the crowded street,
Not in the shouts and plaudits of the throng,
But in ourselves, are triumph and defeat!'

"1975 graduates of Telstar, as you received your diplomas this commencement evening you completed the first step on a journey of a thousand miles, and as Rev. (Robert) Jackson, your baccalaureate speaker said on Sunday evening, 'You've come a long way, baby' — but 'You've Only Just Begun.'"

We believe that if these words had any relevance and meaning to members of the class of 1975 they are equally appropriate for the graduating seniors at Telstar in this year of 1985.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I wish to make a correction in the article about the class of 1921. We were not the first to graduate from West Paris High.

The class of 1918 was the first one, only one of whom is living, Herbert Hill of South Paris, and the class of 1919, only Marjorie (McAlister) Hill of South Paris. Two are living in the class of 1920, Erlon Whitman and Ralph Whitman of West Paris.

Of our class of 1921, 13 graduated and there are still eight living, but the three whose pictures were in The Citizen, were the only three to attend the banquet.

Thank you.

A note from the publisher

The Walker spy scandal continues to fascinate and trouble the nation. For ex-Navyman, like myself, it is especially troublesome because shipmates are people that you have to depend on.

Unlike in the Army and Air Force, where you are an individual within a unit, in the Navy, you are the unit. Each man on a ship has a job to do to keep the ship operating. One man can fly a plane, if necessary; one man can drive a tank, if necessary. One man cannot run a ship.

A ship is a floating island. A ship's crew is a tiny community on that island. There's no place to get away to. People learn to adjust.

And they learn that the ship (that is, the community) comes before everything else.

This builds a nice spirit of camaraderie and a good feeling that you can depend on your shipmates. But now, here is the Walker clan, accused of trying to injure their own shipmates! It really strains the imagination of an ex-Navyman that such a thing would be possible.

How did these people get clearances, and how did they keep them? Probably because the people who do the investigations were looking for the wrong information.

Having held the top security clearance you can get in the Navy, I can tell you that many of the questions asked on security questionnaires and during lie detector sessions have little to do with what sort of security risk a person is. And many of the questions not asked have very much to do with what sort of security risk a person is.

The questions asked during security investigations seem to be overly focused on one's ideology and one's sexual identity. Investigators want to know if the person applying for the security clearance is staunchly anti-communist and staunchly heterosexual.

It seems to me that it should be much more important to determine if the person is honest with his friends and loyal to his spouse. It should be more important to know if he values money over fraternity or if he values personal glamour and excitement over simply doing a good job.

Until the investigators begin looking for good, honest people, rather than people who loudly proclaim that they hate "communies" and "queers" there will continue to be the chance that security clearances will go to people who are right enough to be in the Ku Klux Klan and wrong enough to spy for foreign governments.

CURTIS COMMISSIONED USAF SECOND LIEUTENANT

Chester R. Curtis Jr., son of Chester R. and Marguerite S. Curtis of Damariscotta, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Texas.

The 12-week course trained selected college graduates to apply communicative skills, professional knowledge, leadership and management in positions of responsibility. Curtis will now be assigned at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

His wife, Brenda, is the daughter of William Cushing of Bryant Pond. The lieutenant is a 1984 graduate of Southern Illinois University, military extension at Altus AFB, Okla.

Two new members for the Planning Board. Interested persons should let the town manager know of their interest.

The selectmen accepted the low bid of Ralph Merrill for hauling and disposing of the sludge from the wastewater treatment plant.

The board decided to solicit bids for the sale of a surplus 1960 Chevrolet tank truck, with proceeds of the sale to go into the Fire Department's capital equipment account.

Summer tourism season shapes up

With the first day of summer this Friday, the prospects for the tourist season seem bright.

Wende Gray, secretary of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, told the board of directors Tuesday that inquiries from prospective tourists were coming in to the chamber at the rate of two to three a day.

She said this is much higher than the number of inquiries in previous seasons and credited the jump to the fact that competing areas have become too expensive for the average tourist. "The coast has overpriced itself," she said, "and so has the Mt. Washington valley."

Assistant secretary Robin Zinck, owner of The Chapman Inn, told the board, "We've never had so many advanced reservations."

At the Gilead information kiosk, over 200 visitors stopped on Saturday alone, seeking information on tourism in the area. (They were given The Citizen's summer recreation tabloid.)

This is in marked contrast to many areas reporting in to the Maine State Development Office. That office reports Old Orchard Beach's reservations are down and inquiries are off 25 percent this season. The office blames the strong U.S. dollar, which has diminished the purchasing power of the Canadian dollar in America.

On the other hand, the northern coastal area is reporting more inquiries, with Bar Harbor's inquiries running 50 percent ahead of last year.

But in general, the development office's figures confirm local evidence that tourism is moving inland. Their figures indicate inland inquiries up 25 to 30 percent generally. The Sugarloaf Area Chamber of Commerce reports a doubling of inquiries over last year.

Northwest Bethel

By CLARICE GIBSON

A rainy Thursday and even though we really need it, I like to be able to go out in the sun and feel the heat on my back. Mama Robin is still contentedly sitting on her eggs (don't know how many) and even though one goes right under her nest she will sit right there.

My brother came up June 7 from Norway and had supper with us. He and Frank then went out to sit on the riverbank and Johnny got a big kick out of watching the crane we see out by the river almost every day.

June 12, I went down to Elaine Packard's in the morning with George. Elaine and I then went to my folks, where we met my sister, Iva, and then all three of us went to see my doctor in Portland. We did a little shopping (I guess I did the most) and had lunch in Norway. When we got back to the folks, we visited for awhile and then home.

Not much news as I guess everyone is busy finishing the gardens and getting ready for summer.

Anita Gibbs has bought a new automobile. Dan Gibbs has been helping Anita's brother, Keith Durgin, work on his house (the former Ernest Perkins' residence) in Bethel.

Sylvia Benson went to a Rebekah supper at a restaurant in Mexico June 10. Visitors at the Dennis Andre home over the weekend were Peter, Carol and Anthony Capozzi, Bridgewater, Mass.

June 10 Thelma Merrill and Joe Shimamura went to visit Billy, Dawn and Shandy Shimamura, Norway. They also went shopping and ate out.

Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Shaw, Jon and Jeni went to Songo swimming one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith went to a MIA flag ceremony in North Conway, N.H., at the American Legion Hall over the weekend. Their son, Larry, is a member of that Post.

Friday night, June 7, Jennifer Mason had a sleep-over for her 9th birthday which is June 8. Those attending were Jessica Koskela, Jennifer Bean, Jamie Lewis and Sarah Coolidge. Cake and ice cream were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Bean's son, Nathan, is on the Colt baseball team and Matthew is on a farm team.

Gerry Shimamura picked up Dawn and Shandy Shimamura in Norway and they went to a baby shower in Leeds given by her sister-in-law, Jolene Andre, for Jolene Shimamura.

Melinda Mason was home from her work at Moultonboro, N.H., June 13.

Wilfred Gibson and Kim Wells came June 7. Wilfred's birthday was the 8th and before they left I had them take some cake with them as they were leaving on a picnic.

June 10 Kathy and Nancy Hanscom came for a short visit after Nancy got out of work.

Pat Saunders went to the funeral of her great aunt, Maude Harrington, June 9. Tommy DeRoche, Oxford, visited his uncle, Leslie Lapham and Myrtle last week. Other visitors were Keith Ring of Locke Mills; Mr. Weiden, who brought them some reading material; and Rev. Guy Downing, who brought some tapes of Sunday church services.

Lester and Ruth Butters, and Barbara MacDougal went for a ride to Hastings Campgrounds June 8 and on the 12th Ruth and Lester went to Rumford shopping and to eat.

Jim Monahan, his brother, George, Methuen, Mass., and Gil Wilson, Boston, Mass., hired a camp at Rangeley Lake from June 3 to 7 and went fishing. They had some good fish to bring back. George's wife, Dorothy, came Friday to visit Jo Monahan and went back with her husband on Sunday.

Tuesday, June 4, Evelyn Hilborn, Frances Farnum and Bertha Flanders drove through Evans Notch to pick up tomato plants. They returned via North Conway, had lunch there, then shopped in Gorham, N.H. On Wednesday, they were in Norway and South Paris on business and shopping. Later Mrs. Hilborn and Mrs. Flanders were in Rumford and enjoyed ice cream.

Rejoice and men will seek you; Grieve, and they turn and go, They want full measure of all your pleasure,

But they do not need your woe. Be glad, and your friends are many. Be sad, and you lose them all; There are none to decline your nectar'd wine

But alone you must drink life's

Wednesday night and I guess I will try to write what little news I have tonight instead of waiting until tomorrow. It has been a beautiful day here and hope it has all around this part of the country. Had an appointment in North Bridgton today and Wynona has gotten so she can drive quite a ways now so I drove me over. I was glad to have her do so as it has been very hard to drive to Welchville to meet Russell and have him drive the rest of the way. He has done it for me and I appreciate it more than I can tell him. We have to help one another what we can and try to do so. I just called him to see what the news was up that way and he tells me that nothing exciting has been going on. However, he did say that he had been having trouble with the garden and had to replant some things. It seems some nice little bugs are friendly and weren't letting the beans or parsnips grow, so he tilled them up and replanted them to see if he could have better luck. He has the garden in different ground this year as we wanted it nearer home and it is hard to know just what one can produce until have used the soil for a year or so. He says that our niece and family are using the garden space we had to use last year. Of course, we may not get as much out of it, but all we can do is try. If we could get rain it would help the gardens everywhere. Not much we can do about that but hope for water soon.

Peggy was home again this past weekend and as Wynona had driven me up to West Paris so Russell could drive me to see the doctor, we got to see her for a few minutes. That was on Friday and she was back out again today, so you see, that is why I have to make so many trips over there. Today was the day for allergy shots too. I don't mind them at all.

Guess Lawrence is having some electrical work done at his home by what Russell said. Expect to be back on High Street sometime next week and it will seem good to get home. Not that I haven't enjoyed being with Nonie and family and helping with the new baby, but guess I must be getting old or something as I get tired very easily and when the fibrositis hits, I'm not much good.

Mike, Nonie and children went to Range Pond with friends on Sunday but I stayed at home and kept the bed company most of the day. They had a good time and I was glad they did. Got a little sunburned but not enough to do any harm. Baby got a little wind burn but by putting a little lotion on it, she got right over it. Courtney got some sunburn but that is better now.

We went to a yard sale up the street the other day and I was foolish enough to buy a puzzle to put together. I will have a good time with it next winter when I can't do anything more important.

I'm sure Russell will be glad to have me get home to take care of my African violets. He has kept them going for me while I have been gone and that takes time as does all the other things that have to be done in a home.

Expect our brother Tom will be coming June 29 and want to be ready in case he wants to stay with us. We have told him he can and want to get the room cleared so it will be ready for him. He may stay with his son in Bethel part of the time. We hope to hold a family get-together while he is here so hope all the family will plan on it and come. He hasn't seen any of us, except Bryce and Barb, since before Mother passed away, so it will be good to see him again.

Haven't seen Peggy's daughter and husband as yet but hope to on Saturday. Kaye and Otto Blossley from Florida are with her sister and husband, the Whites, at their camp. Had hoped they would get into town to see us and see the new baby, but haven't yet. I haven't seen them for quite some time. Florida is too far off for me to get there to see them.

I have been doing as much sewing for Courtney as I can find time to do lately and also made a little sun dress for the baby. It is like making doll clothes, but is fun to see how cute they are when worn by the children. Summer isn't over as yet and it doesn't take long to make a little dress if I can find the time to sit down and not have too many interruptions. I like to do the sewing and then see the results.

Nothing more to write about that I know of so will call this enough and hope all of you are well and happy. Take care and pray for the rain we need so badly.

CAREFUL IT'S HOT: Area potters gathered at Bonema Potters recently for a day of "raku" firing. The process involves rapidly baking the pots in a kiln (which Fay Corrin is opening, while Garrett Bonema, right, and others look on) and then placing them in sawdust or straw, where the glazes continue to bake in an environment with reduced oxygen. The result is a striking, crackled glaze.

Hartley Farmer of Temple was high bidder on the old town truck and plow.

Tommy the turtle, Joe's new pet, is supposed to be living in the pool beside the house. However, much to Joe's delight and his father's un-delight, Tommy makes frequent trips to the living room.

Wayne and Annie Atwood visited friends Sunday. Annie is recovering from a back injury and poison ivy.

Someone reported a moose lying in the middle of the road Friday night in Grafton Notch. There must be a vehicle somewhere with a sorry looking front bumper or grille.

Arline Bernier and Tillie Aron attended a women's retreat in Massachusetts Friday and Saturday. The weather complemented the pleasantness of the trip.

Goldie Bergeron of Temple, Myron of Brunswick, Rozella Gross of Gray and Helen Jenkins of Connecticut visited with the Bergerons Monday. Although they saw no moose, they thoroughly enjoyed their view of the mountains and the lake.

The above was penned by my understudy.

The main speaker at the retreat in Wenham, Mass., has lived much of her life including her childhood in Viet Nam. When I spoke to her privately, I mentioned my son who did three hitchhikes with the army there and she quickly and emphatically said, "Tell him I love him. I love him!" She explained with enthusiasm that the missionaries appreciated all the GI's in that arena as they kept the area from control by the VC for 10 years. She also told of a Christian Viet Nam fellow who was in the country after the Communists got control and his Bible was discovered by them. Of course, it was confiscated with the remark it would be fine for the officers' outhouse.

The gentleman then requested the job of cleaning these latrines whereby he retrieved and cleaned his Bible, page by page.

Much of the home problem during that war was brought on by propaganda and press. One vocal woman was and is a popular singer. She and her husband reportedly were trained in Hanoi and he is now in a federal government position.

The public was too apathetic or ignorant or incapable of fighting city hall efficiently but for the Nam veterans who feel unappreciated, hopefully it will help to remind them there is a group of people who were and are fully aware of their value and worth there to the country and God and their appreciation runs deep.

Laurie Bergeron, Joseph, and Arline Bernier presented a puppet show to the kindergarten classes at Ethel Bisbee School. Several parents and other guests were present. The show was based on a story by Thornton Burgess.

We are observing Flag Day. May the "Stars and Stripes" fly proudly over our land as long as it exists.

Hint for the day: If you do jumble type puzzles, use tiles from Scrabble and set aside the circled letter from each word. It saves a lot of scribbling.

A fir party was held at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks on Curtis Hill. A dinner was served at noon by Avis Ellingwood and Lettie Brooks. The ladies stripped the fir from the branches to dry. Monday, eight of the gatherers went out on the Penley wood lot and gathered fir for the pillows that are made for the Universalist Church sale this summer. There were 16 present.

Bruce Galen Clements, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Clements, was named to the Dean's List at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y., for the spring semester. He was a senior majoring in computer science.

I was in Bridgton Friday, June 7. I called on Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews and Lillian Harmon before returning home.

Esther Davis attended a gathering at Lloyd Poland's Sunday afternoon. Then she went to her parents' lot in Carthage and called on some brothers and sister before returning home.

Esther came to my house for two days to help me out. Lettie, Carl and Bea Eames called on twice in one day.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks and Bea Eames went to Augusta Sunday where Carl entered the talent contest for State Grange. He danced his dolls and came up with the big blue ribbon which is the first place. I was unable to go but Lettie came up and showed it to me. Congratulations, Carl.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Morgan, Chad and Christopher of Cicero, Ind., spent a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Morgan. They returned home this week.

A moose was run into on Davis Flat below the field by a car owned by someone near Denmark. It broke his leg, so the moose had to be destroyed.

Everything in Maine is so pretty and green right now. No wonder everyone wants to get back here. It is just beautiful. We do need rain, and the temperature is just right, rain or shine. It is very hot in parts of the United States.

The Willing Workers met at the church for a discussion of the bids on the chimney and other jobs to be done on the building to preserve it. They are still trying to get the bids in.

As I lie here a thinking
Of you girls up in the woods
Cutting fir and having fun,
I wish I only could.

Then I think how grateful
My little body feels
For the help you gave me
In this old foot ordeal.

Just to have your presence
Alone would have been enough
But Esther did the housework
And filled my stomach with stuff.

Lettie brought up meals
That lasted two days;
And, believe me, I appreciated
All the time she gave.

The 'Smile' placed on the table
Was a heart lifting thought
And I have gazed upon it
A lot and a lot and a lot.
And Carl went to Augusta
To dance his dolls for me.

By COLISTA MORGAN

At the end of May or the beginning of June I get an urge to go fishing. One morning, as I looked from my window at breakfast time, I saw no wind at play with the grasses or on the pond surface so I decided to go. When the dishes were done and put away I left for my boat. It was 7:45 by my watch when I rowed from shore. I was so interested in what I was doing that I didn't realize I wasn't alone. I was really surprised to find that uncanny silence an "Aloof Giant" had stalked through the forest and into the weeds. To fish? No, to eat. There it stood weighing probably 900 pounds, with head at times nearly submerged and undisturbed by my nearness. This moose was carrying no shovel-like antlers but seemed to have shed some of its hair from the side toward me. This didn't add any beauty to the huge hump on thin legs, its long upper lip hanging over the under lip, a strange ambling gait and constantly nodding head, as it moved. It certainly seemed like a relic of other geological epochs. How I wished I had brought my camera for I was near enough and his staying time was 20 minutes. He was then aroused by a heavy machine, so he ambled into the woods. This seemed like a good start for my fishing trip.

The weeds now are very prevalent which the fish like for hiding and the moose for food.

Grass and pickerel weeds, the latter not yet blossomed, tame the wind to a light breeze.

I gazed about at the water, a string of sapphires lost in the green wilderness. This morning they reminded me of a day years ago on Attean Lake, which connects with Big Wood Pond west of Jackman. A long walk but plenty of fish at that time.

The lily pads were showing today in places and soon the pure blossoms of the water lily, chalice of fragrance, will float majestically between their leaves. The yellow pond lilies are already in bloom. They lack the delicate beauty and odor of the white lilies.

Rowing up pond I was rewarded for I caught several fish and I saw a painted turtle sunning on a rock.

Nearby were the whirling beetles, little creatures no more than a quarter of an inch long dancing and darting and whirling about on top of the water.

"A whirling of beetles
With air-and-water eyes
Peered into the pond
While they peered into the skies."

It was a very pleasant day and the two hours that I was on the water especially so.

Since that first visit by the moose it has been back many times and many people have stopped to see and to take pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hayes who recently bought a home here had as a visitor over the weekend, Tim Allen. They also spent some time at the Hayes homestead. Ardell and Betty Hayes, Auburn, were also there.

June brings excited seniors, proms and other memorable events. Seniors, now that the glamour is over, your diplomas and tassels are mementos of the past, and you have been told by everybody that computers are the thing to get into, may I, at tail-end, come up with some sage advice of my own, with your permission. These are facts, if heeded, you will not have to learn the hard way as you step out into the world, like a liberated young god or goddess.

1. White and colored clothes cannot be washed together. (Dryers DO NOT "EAT" socks.)

2. A diet of junk food alone will get you nowhere except to the emergency room. 3. Purchase a reliable alarm clock. It is harsher, more persistent than Ma's yelling. Promptness is a virtue.

4. Late nights and manual labor do not mix. Suddenly an eight hour day can be as long as two 16's.

5. Clothes tossed on the floor will wrinkle and closets packed to overflowing can be extremely dangerous when you open the door suddenly.

6. Drawers filled to capacity with an assortment of underwear, stationery, potato chips and other sundry items have a tendency to (a) not close properly; (b) mildew, mold or rot.

7. Beds not made can cause backaches; wrinkles in sheets, bed sores. 8. Whispering, laughing and writing notes during working hours can cause an abrupt cancellation of a paycheck permanently.

9. A tolerance of room-mate's bad habits must be nurtured. Co-habitation is a learning experience. (It does not come naturally.)

10. Factory life does cause broken nails, callouses, bumps, lumps and bruises. Severed limbs too, if safety rules are not observed. One must be alert.

11. Foul language can be obnoxious, anywhere. 12. Dirty dishes can cause food poisoning.

Hey, perhaps life with ol' mom wasn't so bad after all. Come on, give her a break. She needs a rest. You'll get the hang of it! Congrats and best wishes to all.

SCIENCE FAIR PROJECT: This box of many angles was one of the favorite projects at the Woodstock Elementary School's science fair last week. One first looked into a peephole into the enclosed room in the box and guessed the sizes and relative positions of the pieces of toy furniture in the room. One then opened the door and saw that what seemed to be reality was just an illusion.

Woodstock science fair features young Edisons

It seemed as if half the town turned out to look at the experiments and research projects put together by the budding scientists of the Woodstock Elementary School. The science fair was on display last Tuesday and featured work by the 4th, 5th and 6th graders, under the tutelage of teachers Pamela Berry, Loraine Cyr and Terry Merrill.

There was a tie for the overall best project, shared by Cindy Hammel, who did a research project on Down's Syndrome, and Dawn Davis, who did a project on the ear and how it works. Other winners were as follows: in Biology, Greg Corrin, 1st, Behavior; Betty Johnson, 2nd, The eye; Jenny Felt, 3rd, Back to back with scoliosis.

Earth Science: Stacy House, 1st, How does a greenhouse help plants grow; Allison Bartlett, 2nd, Land, people, and temperatures of the world; tied for 3rd Chris Hoyt, How a furnace heats your home, and Casey Swan, Grafting and propagation.

Physics: Julia Johnson, 1st, How heat travels through water; Heather Roberts, 2nd, conductors of electricity; tied for 3rd Keith Manjourides, How a battery works, and Troy Wing, Electrical wiring. Zoology: Althea Steven, 1st, Shells; Angela Hebert, 2nd, How worms live; Merle Evans, 3rd, How snakes survive. Earth/Space: Tony Mackillop, 1st, Rockets; Devin Benson, 2nd, Hot air balloons; Lynn Buckingham, 3rd, Launche into space.

The judges of the science fair were Larry Arseneault, Marcel Polak, Douglas Trotter, Nancy Murphy and Jim Chandler.

Lina Reynolds of Lake Wales, Fla., is visiting her daughter, Julie Daye.

Mercedes Brent is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Borden Foster. On their way from Florida to Greenwood recently, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Anderson visited with Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Brown.

On the Road Again: We're off to my old stomping grounds for a visit to my dad over the Father's Day weekend.

School is out... I know a lot of children—and teachers—who are breathing a sigh of relief. Remember, drive carefully this summer. The little ones are everywhere.

"Sometimes life unfolds... like a beautiful rainbow. Sometimes, it comes as a song unsung—waiting to be played, begging to be sung, gently inviting the touch of a kindly hand or the voice of a caring friend. The beauty of a rainbow may be contemplated in solitude. The mystery of a song begs to be shared."

—Unknown

The past week has been "I'm not going to do anything you want me to do, Mom." I've had a number of protests played out before my eyes (at the IGA, Prim's, the post office, Casco Bank).

Jaime is developing quite a reputation. Everyone knows Jaime is two. I've stopped calling it the Terrible Twos. Ours are the "Turkey Twos." Now I know why everyone tells me to "have a sense of humor, mother." I've had a lot of practice sighing lately. We've (actually) Jaime is the only one of us who vocalizes developed a cute little habit of screaming when she is angry with me. I've come close to stuffing a towel in a certain little mouth... 'close' is the operative word here. Aren't two year olds wonderful?

And now it is ten... "My faith must have been smaller than the mustard seed, cause not a thing I ever prayed for ever came true. But I must have done something right in my life in someone's eyes... 'cause I've got you..." —Larry Gatlin

Je t'aime beaucoup, ti Jean. I have some nice orange blossoms on my zucchini! My mouth is just watering for it. Mmmmmmm... good! Even Jaime likes it so there had better be a good crop of those little green dudes!

My friend Chief has been very quiet lately. One of these days I'll have to walk on over to his humble abode to see what he's been doing. The last time we spoke, Chief said something about making an appearance at the Mollycoddle Day celebration. We'll just have to wait and see, I suppose. I did catch him sending his best feathers to the dry cleaners the other day. Maybe...

Since June is traditionally the month of weddings, I decided I'd leave you with this thought: "Marriage is the only union that can't be organized. Both sides think they're management." Just kidding. My parting thoughts are more on the serious side: "A good marriage is like an incredible retirement fund. You put everything you have into it during your productive life, and over the years it turns from silver to gold to platinum."

The town was greatly saddened by the death of Everett Cross. No words can express the impact this man had on all who knew him. His courage in the face of his blindness and ill health will long be an inspiration to us all. To his wife, Vera, his brother, Rodney, and his sister, Edith, and the rest of the family goes our sincerest sympathy, for we all, to some extent, share in their deep sense of loss.

SECOND GRADERS PRODUCE 'THE MANY ADVENTURES OF WHACHAMACALLIT'

What happens when you combine imagination, enthusiasm, creativity, paper, pencils, second graders, and a school volunteer? In this particular case, the product is "The Many Adventures of Whachamacallit," a 49-page book, written and illustrated by Steve Cramton, Heather Davis, Elizabeth Patterson, Jessica Reynolds, and Laura Seames, students in Mrs. Judy Coolidge's second grade. Meeting weekly with the students through the year, Mrs. DeeJ Patterson guided them through the process of creating a character; the children then worked as a group to write the introduction and as individuals to develop their own chapters with accompanying illustrations. On June 13, the "published" (laminated) copy was presented to the children, who, in turn, presented it to the other second graders at Crescent Park School.

By EVELINE B. VATCHER

Don't tell anyone but we have had a bit of much needed rain and we need lots more.

A few from our small hamlet attended the West Paris Alumni banquet held at the West Paris Grange Hall June 8. Rupert Ellingwood, a former North Paris lad, graduated in the class of 1921.

Eveline goofed last week. Marietta Penley had a birthday along with Thelma Card at the party at "Big Rock." Sorry. June 8, Priscilla "Patty" Henderson and David Paine were married at Northway Congregational Church.

Richard Robbins is home from Stephens Memorial Hospital after being treated for a week for blood poisoning in his arm.

Doris Lawrence and Gertrude Birney went to the wedding of Sandra Kuvaja and Greg Berry at Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. James Abbott have a new artesian well. They had water problems last winter.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Maude Harrington and her brother, Roy Cummings, of Bethel.

Eveline Vatcher likes the new darker print in the June 12 edition of the Bethel Citizen. Before she had to remove her glasses. Print was too light.

Callers at Laurences: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penley Sr., Ellen Coffin, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher, Bob Lisle, Rhoda Vatcher, Herbert and James Ryerson, Joe Kalinowski, Richard Felt and Arnold Coffin.

We have had a new taste treat this week: moose meat, and it is delicious. Arnold Coffin was at his trailer two days and made two calls to the doctor for a badly burned left hand, caused by a short circuit in an electric trimmer. He has to wear a white glove on his left hand.

Doris Lawrence and Mildred York accompanied Ellen Coffin of Norway to the Woodstock Alumni banquet held at Telstar June 15. Eveline and her shingles stayed home. Maybe next year they will be gone.

Denise Poland, local, had her name drawn in the moose lottery. We hope she brings home a moose. They make good eating.

PLEASE.....

Would the persons that took our sign last Sunday morning (2:00 a.m.), return it with no questions asked.

Bob and his dog Miah saw near his garden a bear he figures would weigh 150 pounds.

Mindy Wilson was the only Telstar graduate from this community this year. The Friday ceremony was attended by her family, Denny, Rita, Doug, Jodie and David and by Marc and Leslie Moore and myself.

Joe and Muriel Gilbert went to a baby shower for their granddaughter, Deborah Lougee, at North Windham, Sunday. Howard and Mildred Emery of Westbrook, on their way home from a fishing trip, stopped to see the Gilberts on Friday.

Hank and Kathy Deegan Lessard have bought a home about 18 miles from base. Their new address is: 951 South Mollison, El Cajon, Calif. 92020. Ronnie, Sally, Koral and Eben Smith and Leah Deegan expect to pick up Florence Beck at Randolph, N.H., and all go to Storyland on Sunday.

Brian Colby went on the eighth grade class trip to the Heritage House in New Hampshire on Friday.

Irene Wilson is recovering from a bout of pneumonia and feeling better. After the ball game at Telstar last Thursday evening, I wouldn't have been surprised if there were several cases of pneumonia. Was it ever chilly!

Safety Tip of the Week
School is out—or will be soon—for the summer. Children will be playing outside in the good weather.

When driving, be extra cautious when children are nearby. A child might easily chase after a ball into the road, or fall off a bicycle into path of an oncoming car, or just walk across the street without looking carefully both ways.

And parents, be sure you know where your children are. Not every adult can be trusted and hopefully your child won't have to get away from someone who might harm him or her. But be sure your child knows how to say NO firmly.

FROM THE BETHEL AREA Health Center

Are you an adult who grew up in an alcoholic family? Are you questioning whether the drinking in your family was "normal"? Are you confused about your own use of alcohol? Are you running in to trouble as an adult, because of another person's drinking? If so, you are not alone.

For every alcoholic there are at least four people seriously affected by this disease. Children learn to survive their parents' illness, but later feel discontent in their adult relationships. Their ways of dealing with an alcoholic doesn't work very well in relating to other people. Often if adult children of alcoholics have difficulties parenting their own children, it may relate to the parenting they received in their alcoholic families.

A four session course, The Family Forum, will be offered at the Bethel Area Health Center in July. The Forum will provide education about the effects of parental alcoholism on adult children. It will be designed for those adults who know or assume they were raised in an alcoholic family.

The four sessions will be two hours each, one evening a week, for four weeks. The facilitator will be Becky Hardy M.S.W., a Registered Substance Abuse Counselor employed by Tri County Mental Health Services in Rumford. The cost will be negotiable and participants will have the option of buying or borrowing the written materials that are used. Becky also provides counseling on Mondays and Tuesdays afternoons at the Bethel Area Health Center.

If you are interested in this forum call Becky at the Health Center, 824-2193, or leave a message for her to return your call, or call Tri County Mental Health in Rumford, 364-7981. You may also talk with Becky on Mondays from 4-5 p.m. which is the Drop-In time at the Health Center in Bethel.

MIDDLE INTERVALE MEETING HOUSE SOCIETY HELD ANNUAL MEETING, JUNE 10

The annual meeting of the Middle Intervale Meeting House Society was held on Monday, June 10, 1985. The attendance was boosted by Steve Wight of Newry who brought a group of Elderhostel visitors.

A moment of silence was observed in memory of Marge Noll, who will always be remembered for her cheery smile and willingness to participate in activities.

The meeting house is finally going to get its chandelier. After much investigative work by the restoration committee consisting of Elizabeth Mason Carter, Edith Guyer, Sue Fiske and Stanley Howe, the choice of design and fabrication by Robert H. Klar of Salmon Falls Forge, Hollis, Maine, was recommended to the meeting. The design of the fixture will incorporate candles, which is appropriate of the building and the period it represents. The wall fixtures will still hold the kerosene lamps and this will show the transition from candles to kerosene lamps. Although unable to attend, Mrs. Ernest Holt sent a letter which was read to the group stating her preference to using a chandelier which was electrified. The members voted to accept the chandelier from Mr. Klar. This chandelier is being presented as a gift to the Society by Lt. Gen. James D. Alger (U.S. Army ret.) and Mrs. Alger, both members and very interested in the restoration of the building.

The Society expressed its appreciation to Hugh Swan of Locke Mills for donating his time and talent in refurbishing the kerosene wall brackets so that they could be mounted around the meeting house walls when the painting is completed. Dennis Wheeler and his crew of painters are presently in the process of painting the pews and windows and doing some repairs to the cupola and ceiling. Dennis has shown quite an interest in the restoration and it is reflected in the job being done.

Newly upholstered chairs in the chancel have been accomplished through the efforts of Edith Guyer of Paris Hill and friends of the Society in the Bethel, Norway, and South Paris area.

Plans are underway for a summer concert and food sale in August, in conjunction with the annual Sudbury Canada Days celebration in Bethel. Arlene Greenleaf Brown, chairperson for the concert isn't revealing the program at this time, but if past performances can be used as a guide, it will be well worth waiting for. As in the past, the food sale will be chaired by Sarah Stevens of Bethel and Edith Guyer of Paris Hill. Aug. 10 and 11 are days to reserve on our calendars.

Since the Meeting House is an old-fashioned building, it is going to have an addition of an old-fashioned "out house." Rodney Howe volunteered for the job of building and installing it.

Elizabeth Mason Carter and Stan Howe will be joining forces in compiling a brochure about the Meeting House and a sum of money was voted to have it published.

Contributions to the Endowment Fund have been coming in during the winter months and they are greatly appreciated. Anyone who wishes to donate to this fund may contact Louise Annis or Sue Fiske. Donations are tax deductible.

One of the first ways the Society had to raise money for the restoration was to sell pews and foundation stones. All the pews have been sold but there are a few more stones left. The "stones" are $100 each, which includes a life membership in the Society. Lincoln Fiske has volunteered to draw a diagram of the stone foundation so that ownership names may be applied and the diagram will then be mounted on the back wall of the Meeting House just like the "pew diagram!"

Dick Carter will make the appropriate contact about mowing the lawn as needed.

A new service will be instituted during

WOODSTOCK RESIDENTS

residents of both towns. In order to use the dump, which is locked, residents should call Greenwood Selectman Norman Millett, who is in charge of the site, at 527-2254 or 875-5775. Mr. Millett said he will accept both hot and cold ashes at the stump dump.

In other matters during the course of the 2½-hour monthly joint meeting, the selectmen turned down an appeal by local businessmen for daily hours at the dump. The boards, last April, had authorized three extra hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays, in an effort to satisfy local campground owners and grocery store owners, who complained that their trash builds up very quickly during summer months and they have no place to store it.

The businessmen, led by George Stevens, of Littlefield Beaches Campground, asked for two hours on Mondays and Wednesday (when the transfer station is now closed) instead of the extra hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Greenwood Selectman Herb Dunham asked Mr. Stevens: "What if we give you one hour?"

"One hour would be better than no hour," responded the campground owner.

When the votes were counted, however, the petitioners got no hours.

Woodstock Selectman Ethel Davis reflected the thinking of the Woodstock board, pointing out that other town dumps have fewer open hours than the Greenwood-Woodstock transfer station. "If you compare us with other towns, we have really gone out on a limb (to accommodate everyone)."

Meat market owner Tom House didn't see it quite that way. "If you can add more hours on Tuesday and Thursday, why couldn't you have them on Wednesday and Friday?"

Greenwood Selectman Millett pointed out that doing away with the three extra hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays and substituting one extra hour on Mondays and Wednesdays would save the towns money on the dump attendant's salary.

The selectmen declined to vote on the matter while the petitioners were present. After they had left, and upon a motion by Greenwood Selectman Wayne Redman, the April vote authorizing the additional hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays was rescinded. The vote was 4-0, with one abstention.

Mr. Dunham then moved that the transfer station be opened Mondays and

PILGRIM FELLOWSHIP

It's off to Washington, D.C., for members of West Parish Congregational Church's Pilgrim Fellowship. The group left Saturday by van for a week of touring and study in the nation's capital.

During the week the PF will visit Sen. William Cohen, Sen. George Mitchell, and Rep. Olympia Snowe. They will also visit the Smithsonian, tour monuments, attend a polo match, see a play at the Kennedy Center, shop in Georgetown and Foggy Bottom, visit the National Zoo, meet with the UCC for Church in Society, and seek adventure.

Members participating in the trip are Keith Wight, Eric Wight, David Kersey, Lisa Clanton, Keith Clanton, Marsha Moxey, Mike McGuire, Alec Newell, Joy Davis, Kevin Powell, Derek Dresser, and advisors Kris Atherton, Brandon Bass, Steve Wight.

Wednesdays, from 7 to 8 p.m., with Mr. Millett seconding it. The motion failed, however, by a 2-3 margin.

Woodstock Selectman Clifford York was out of town and could not attend the meeting, but said, in a note, he was opposed to any further extension of the transfer station hours. Woodstock Selectman Frank Bean chaired the meeting.

Mrs. Davis noted that the operation of the transfer station had cost the two towns about $2,200 since it went into operation last November, through April. The residents of the two towns were generating an average of 38 tons of solid waste per week. The cost to send this trash to the Auburn incinerator for burning averaged out at $57 per ton. This included a lot of non-recurring costs (such as legal fees) as well as normal costs of hauling and burning and dump attendants' salaries.

In yet another dump matter, the boards indicated they favored purchasing clay fill from Rowe Hill for 35 cents a yard to cover their old burn dumps, which the state Department of Environmental Protection said must be covered. They have already been covered with earth, but the DEP requires an impermeable clay layer on top of the mounds, in order to slow the seepage of water through the refuse and into the water supply.

Mr. Dunham estimated it would cost $2,000 to cover each town's dump. Mr. Redman pointed out that Mr. Abram also has fill available, free of charge. But it would have to be tested first to meet DEP specifications on fineness. The Rowe Hill clay has already been tested.

COUNTY REPUBLICANS MET

AT SOUTH PARIS, JUNE 11

A large group of Oxford County Republicans met at the South Paris Fire Hall, Tuesday, June 11, enjoying a potluck supper prior to the monthly meeting.

Darlene Wallace, Waterford, was introduced and expressed an interest in running for register of deeds in the next election. Ms. Wallace has a background of legal secretarial work.

Nancy Sutton announced that the County Search Committee is in the process of searching for candidates to recruit.

Don Buzzell, Fryeburg, state committeeman, talked about work to be done in updating voter lists as an ongoing project. Mr. Buzzell stressed identifying people who would be good candidates for house and senate races.

Sherry Huber was introduced as a candidate for governor. She said she was starting early in her quest, communicating with people, even though she has spent the last three years keeping in touch. According to Mrs. Huber, very little has happened to solve state-level problems in the last six years, particularly employment. "After six years of doing nothing," Governor Brennan has decided not enough is being done."

One of the major issues, according to Mrs. Huber, is the state of Maine economy. She questioned the attitude of saving particular companies through taxpayer assistance. According to Mrs. Huber, the state should think ahead before giving assistance across the board. Planning ahead on assistance factors would avoid the present crisis basis the state is operating under.

Mrs. Huber stressed economic development "Because of our natural resource-based economy, we are going to find ourselves in great demand, attractive to others." Mrs. Huber went on to say "we need to make Maine people feel good about themselves. — The future of Maine needs lower levels of control and less red tape."

Mrs. Huber cited crime, education and social welfare services as other major issues. Mrs. Huber said she was still weighing the consideration of running as an independent, not wanting to mislead people.

GREENWOOD REC. COMMITTEE GEARING UP FOR SUMMER

The Greenwood Recreation Committee is sponsoring their second work session at the recreation fields. The first was held on a rainy Saturday in May with a small crew that consisted of the committee members plus some players from the men's league team, and the road commissioner. They accomplished quite a lot despite the dampness. The back-stop on the big field was repaired, some fill was added to the left field sideline on that same field, and the fencing was put up around the playground area.

On Sunday morning, June 23, the group hopes for improvements in the weather and the number of volunteers. Several projects are in the making with the fixing of the fence and the dugout on the little field holding top priority. Other plans include the leveling of an area for a basketball backstop and the placement of poles for the tennis court lights. Long range plans include painting of bleachers on little fields, getting equipment to add to the play area, making a horseshoe game area, and claying the infield at the small field.

Any community group is welcome to use the recreation area but is reminded that a schedule is kept on a first-come first-served basis. Scheduling is being done by Gary Fuller this year. He can be reached at 875-2462.

The recreation group is entirely voluntary and depends upon the community for support to help make these plans a reality. All help is welcome on Sunday, June 23, from 9 a.m. to noon at the ballfield.

ANNOUNCED GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATE Porter Leighton (left) spoke to the Bethel Rotary Club recently. The Republican hopeful was the guest of Rotarian Jim Delamater.

BETHEL SENIOR CITIZENS MET LAST WEDNESDAY

Bethel Senior Citizens met at the South Ridge Lodge of the Sunday River Ski Resort on Wednesday, June 12, with 52 in attendance. There are 135 members at present. A delicious turkey dinner was served.

Birthdays celebrated for the month are Grace Buck, Bertha Flanders, Carolyn Brooks, Audrey Hanscom, Doris Fraser, John Martin, Faith Brown, and Elden Hathaway. Carolyn Brooks and Earlon Paine have anniversaries.

Muriel Faudt will be serving as interim vice president until an election. A moment of silence was observed in honor of Bertha Thurston, recently deceased.

President Irene Pike, who conducted the meeting, extended congratulations to Floribel Haines, Annie Crockett and Earlon Paine for awards received from the Chamber of Commerce.

Two guests were welcomed: Alice Taylor and Florence Piffard, as well as Isaac Russell who spoke briefly on the possibilities of bus trips.

Appeals were made for cookies for Telstar's Project Graduation and for the booth at Mollycoddle Day, July 20. It is planned to participate in the parade. Volunteers are needed. There was a discussion of a July trip to Lake Winnepesaukee and tentative plans were made for July 10. Next week's Citizen will have details.

A door prize was received by Tony Pugliese and Ginny Walker entertained with a program of gospel songs.

Rotary Club news

The Bethel Rotary Club held its luncheon meeting at the Sudbury Inn Tuesday. The program was confined, primarily, to the end-of-year report of President Jim Monahan.

Matters presented included the financial condition of the club, the progress made in meeting planned club projects and goals for the 1984-85 Rotary year, and the actions taken to meet the goals and objectives of the directors of the Four Avenues of Service.

President Jim thanked everyone for the support and dedicated commitment they had made in completing programs and projects of the club, and he expressed his wish that the same kind of support be given incoming President Lennie Shaw.

Visiting Rotarians and guests were: Bill Lowther, Boonton, N.J.; Chas. Feld, Marco Island, Fla.; and Dick Slyfield, Mercer Island, Wash.

Next week's program will be confined to the installation of officers for the 1985-86 Rotary year, plus a special event to be announced in this column next week. Rotarians are invited to attend next week's meeting and installation.

MISS HILL HONORED AT GOULD COMMENCEMENT

Heather Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Gary Hill of Bethel, walked away with many honors at Gould Academy's recent commencement exercises.

Miss Hill received two academic book prizes for her outstanding work in Spanish II and music and theatre. In addition she was awarded the Gayle A. Foster bowl given to the student who has exhibited the most outstanding work in photography. Mr. Foster was an instructor in the science department at Gould for many years who also taught photography and directed the camera club. He gained an international reputation as a photographer and this award was established in his memory by Martin Bovey of Gould's class of 1946.

Heather also received the Gould Academy Alumni Association Award which acknowledges an outstanding senior who is the son or daughter, grandson or granddaughter, of an alumnus/alumna and whose attitude, involvement, and contributions in both academic and extracurricular activities typify the ideals of Gould's alumni and Alumni Association.

Heather spent the last two years of high school at Gould and was active in a variety of extracurricular activities as well as maintaining her place on the academic honor roll. In addition she was a member of Blue Key, Gould's service organization, played varsity field hockey, participated in the drama program including this spring's production of the musical "The Wiz," a member of the choir and was elected to the National Honor Society. Heather will attend the University of Maine at Farmington next fall.

RECEIVING THE HENRY H. HASTINGS AWARD at the recent Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce annual banquet is Earlon (Bud) Paine. Banquet organizer Barbara Brown made the presentation.

TWO BRYANT POND STUDENTS
RECENT RECIPIENTS OF ENVIRONMENTAL AWARDS

Two students, Casey Swan and Cindy Hamel, from grades five and six of the Woodstock Elementary School were presented certificates Friday afternoon, May 31, at the Bangor Hilton by Senator George Mitchell for their poem and poster in the Environmental Poems and Posters Contest.

Paul Keough, deputy of the New England states, at the Boston office of the Environmental Protection Agency, welcomed over 150 students, teachers, parents and friends. He explained there were 100,000 entries of poetry, posters and short stories. Four thousand teachers judged these classroom works, and after the review, each teacher was allowed two entries, ending up with 8,000 at the regional office. This is the 13th year of the program.

Mr. Keough introduced Senator Mitchell, who spoke briefly and praised the students for their participation in the program and the teachers for their great classroom work. The senator said that this was one of his special projects, and that he was an advocate for environmental issues of clean air, water and the control of acid rain. He wants to have a clean, healthy place for all to live and urged the students to keep on working through life for a clean environment.

Senator Mitchell presented 43 certificates to individual students, and three certificates for school projects. In addition, 12 winners and two class projects received plaques. Each student and class had the honor of having their pictures taken with Senator Mitchell.

This is the third year in a row that the Woodstock Elementary School has had a winner. Casey entered a poem and Cindy a poster.

Attending the presentations were teachers from the Woodstock Elementary School, Mrs. Loraine Cyr, grade five, and Mrs. Pam Berry, grade six; Casey's family, Mr. and Mrs. Laska Swan; Cindy's family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamel and four children, Mary Howe, student at WES, and Mrs. Helen Harris of New Sharon.

Other schools in the area receiving certificates or plaques were Auburn, Wilton, Gorham, Augusta, Yarmouth, Brunswick, Portland, Cape Elizabeth, Falmouth, Sanford and Sabattus.

Notes from the
Woodstock Historical Society

The White House is one of our most historic buildings. It reached its height of evolution during Jacqueline Kennedy's tenure as first lady. Many fine acquisitions came during those years. The Green Room became a Sheraton fantasy. The Red Room was Empire eclectic. The Blue Room had many historic pieces from early American history. The East Room was stark but grand. The Dining Room had suitably elegant appointments. The Diplomatic Reception Room got historic wallpaper. The Library boasted many first editions. Portraits of former Presidents and First Ladies were prominently hung.

The transformation in the White House has generally endured so it is still a building worthy of the nation. This change shows what can be done to a historic building with imagination and taste. We can afford to follow this example as historic preservationists.

Want to kick the old ball around? There will be a youth vs. adult soccer game next Sunday, June 30, at 2 p.m. at the Gould Academy lower athletic field.

Maine is the only state in the U.S. whose name has only one syllable.
